

LATE PAYMENT FEE WAIVER REQUEST

It is the student's responsibility to pay tuition, fees, and all other charges by the due date provided on their bill. A late payment fee is charged to your bursar account if you make payment after the due date or if your installment plan payment is less than the minimum amount due. Failure to receive, access, or review your bill is not a valid reason to request waiver of a late payment fee.

Verbal appeals are not accepted.

A student may appeal a late payment fee if incorrect information was received from an Indiana University faculty/staff member that directly resulted in failure to pay on time. Student must provide written supporting documentation from the faculty/staff member for the request to be considered.

A student may also appeal a late payment fee if timely payment was prevented by extenuating circumstances beyond the student's control. The situation must be explained below in detail and written supporting documentation attached.

To prevent a hold from being placed on your bursar account, late payment fees must be paid and will be refunded or credit applied to your balance owed if the waiver request is approved.

The fee waiver request form must be received one week prior to the next appeal committee meeting, which is typically held on the first Wednesday of each month. However, meeting dates are subject to change without notice. If form is received after the deadline, the fee waiver request will be reviewed at the following meeting.
